

Vocabulary

fröhlich = Happy	traurig = Sad	müde = tired
wie = how	wo = where	wann = when
Mann = Man	Er = He

Chunks

Wie geht's = Wie geht es dir? = How is it going?	Gut, danke = Good, thanks	Geht so = I am alright
Der mann ist fröhlich = That man is happy	Er ist traurig = He is sad	Ich bin müde = I am tired
Guten Morgen = Good morning	Wo ist der Bahnhof = Where is the train station	Wann treffen wir uns? = When are we meeting?

- The adjective that describes how a person is feeling is usually the last word in the sentence.
 - Der Mann ist fröhlich. (The man is happy.)
 - Er ist traurig. (He is sad.)
- To express how a person is feeling, we use the verb "sein" (to be).
 - The verb changes according to the person whose feelings we're describing.
 - Der Mann ist fröhlich. (The man is happy.)
 - Ich bin müde. (I am tired.)
- The question word is nearly always followed by a verb.
 - Woher kommst du?
 - Wie heißt du?
 - But there are exceptions, for example when asking "Wie alt bist du?"
 - Here, "wie alt" can be considered as one entity.